Council Binfu, Iowa.—"A few years ago after motherhood I could not gain back my strength. I developed quite a severe case of woman's trouble, suffered with bearing pains which would be so severe I would have to lie down. I became so weak that all I wanted to do was lie and rest. It seemed that every spark of vitality had left me. I consulted a doctor and he said nothing but an operation would help me, but I consulted a doctor and he said nothing but an operation would help me, but I would not consent. I had seen Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised, so at once began taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it was not long until I moticed my appetite was returning, I could eat, so I knew the medicine was doing me good. I took about twelve bottles and it was well worth it for it completely restored me to health, without the operation."—Mrs. W. H. Avis, $14 2, 13th St.

EXTRA SESSION

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION TO CONVENE CONGRESS CITES THE PUBLIC INTERESTS.

FIRST WORK ON MARINE BILL

Benate, With Several Important Bills, and House, With Apprepriations, Expected to Finish Work By Fourth of March.

NEW CONGRESS TO CONSIDER REVISIONS OF THE TAXES

Washington.-The pressing of se eral important tax revision proposals in the 68th Congress was forecast by some leaders of the "progressive" Re-publicans and the Democrats on the basis of the sharp changes in the size of the majority and minorities in the House and Senate as a result of the recent elections. They said revision propositions would come upon both the majority and minority sides.

Chief among the tax plans of the Republican "progressives" is an impost on the undistributed surpluses of corporations, affecting also stock dividends. Such a tax also is favored by the Democrats in the view of Representative Oldfield, of Arkansas, the minority "whip" and a member of the Ways and Means Committee, which deals with revenue matters.

ngton.—Congress was called by President Harding to meet in extra session November 20th, exactly two weeks in advance of the regular sesion November 20th, exactly two

The call, set forth, as is usual in the form of a proclamation, declared the extra session was made necessary by public interests. The text of the proclamation follows:

"Whereas, public interests require that the Congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 22 o'clock noon on the 20th day of November, 1922, to receive such communications as may be made by the executive:

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the Congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the capitol in the City of Washington, on the 20th day of November, 1922. at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are required to take notice.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto not my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

issued had been made from the White House. The call of the special session two weeks in advance of the regular meeting has been approved generally by Republican leaders in Congress, who have felt that by getting an earlier start on legislation than would be afforded by the regular session, practically all important bills, including the appropriation measure, could be disposed of by next March, when the 67th Congress must adjourn sine die. Leaders have asserted that unless the special session were called, it would be seconary to invian extra session after March and work into the summer months.

Although the nature of the Prest. dent's recommendations to be presented to the extra session when it convenes November 2th have not been definitely outlined, the opinion of Republican leaders has been that the House will proceed directly to consideration of the merchant marine bill. The President agreed to postpor of action on this measure at the last session upon assurances of party leaders that it would be taken up without

1,000 DEATH TOLL IN QUAKE DISASTER

RECURRENT TIDAL WAVES 120 MILES LONG FLOOD VILLAGES ON THE CHILEAN COAST.

MANY THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Victime in Night Clothes Grushed to Death Under Tumbling Buildings as They Fled to Hills in Panic.

Santiago, Chile,-With partial re-establishment of communications, Chile's earthquake catastrophe is revealed in even greater magnitude than first reports indicated. It is estimated that at least 1,000 are dead and that many thousands are in distress, needing food and shelter. In addition to heavy casualties of dead and injured at Copiapo and Coquimbo, it was reported that 500 were killed at Vallenar and the surrounding district. Vallenar was virtually destroyed, and the survivors are in a critical condition. It seems certain that there have been casualties in other towns and villages around Copiapo, to the south, concerning which ne news is available.

Already 24 bodies have been recovered at Coquimbo, where it is known there are 100 or more dead. At Chanarai, a number were killed by falling houses, as they fled to the hills in

It was earthquake and tidal wave combined that accounted for the vast destruction in the provinces of Antofagasta, Atacama and Coquimbo. The phenomenal. It gave evidence of a ter. novement of the ocean is described as rific disturbance in the bed of the Pacific itself. There must have been such a tearing at the bottom of the sea that immense quantities of water were sucked through, causing a tremendous recession of the waters along the Chilean coast.

Several times the ocean swept outward and came back in the shape of a great wave, flooding the scaports, and in some instances sweeping away the waterfront. The violent effects of the tidal waves were felt from Antofagasta on the north to Valdivia on the outh, covering about 16 degrees of latitude, or more than 1,200 miles. All types of craft lying in the various harbors were swept on shore, wrecked or left high and dry, and at scores of small ports wharves and quays were destroyed.

Chilean naval vessels in the harbon of Talcahuaño, about 300 miles south of Valparaiso, when they felt the force of the waters, slipped their cables and proceeded out to the open sea.

President Alessandri has ordered the various government departments to take all measures possible for the relief of the sufferers in the stricken die tricts, those most sorely affilicted lying between Coquimbo and Copiapo. The Navy Department has sent ships along the coast to aid in the work.

CONSTABLE SLAIN, GROCER SHOT IN PROHIBITION RAID

Caruthersville (Mo.) Merchant Wound ed After Killing Officer Whose Term Was to Expire Soon.

Caruthersville, Mo.-Several hours before he was to relinquish his office to a successor, Constable Max Stubblefield, 45 years old, was shot and instantly killed here in a pistol battle with Ben Wade, a grocer, during a prohibition raid on the latter's store. Two other officers who accompanied Stubblefield wounded Wade four times. Stubblefield, who had gained the reputation of being a fearless officer while formerly serving a term as sheriff of Pemiscot County, was to have turned his office over to a newly-elected constable at midnight. He had been de fied by Wade, known throughout the county as a bootlegger, and determined to make a raid on Wade's grocery, according to the authorities. When Constable Stubblefield, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Jesse Johnson and H. G. Gaines, a special offi-cer, entered the store, Wade stepped behind a stairway and emerged with a revolver. Without noticing the other members of the raiding party, he leveled the weapon at Stubbiefield and fired. The bullet penetrated the constable's brain, causing instant death. Johnson and Gaines then returned the Constable Stubblefield was one of the reform leaders in Pemiscot County. He had worked with prohibition officers and had been active against bootleggers.
